CAMP GEORGE WASHINGTON, BRIGHTWOOD PARK, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—Although they had pitched their tents in the Promised Land, the Commonwealers of Coxeys have not found it a land flowing with milk and honey. The morning sunlight thawed out a stiff and cold and hungry lot of tourists after the first night passed in the District of Columbia. Many of the rank and file had scratched their heads in protest on the bare ground within the enclosure of canvas which circles their quarters. Their leaders, Gen. Coxeys and Marshal Carl Browne, were down in the city, three miles below, encoined in the luxurious surroundings of a three-dollar-a-day hotel. The shabby tents only provided accommodations for the Commonwealers and privileged characters of the retinue, and as for the privates, they swarmed like rats into the commissary wagons, while other simply dropped to sleep, without blankets or coverings, on the ground.

There was a scramble for the shelter of the horse-sheds in which Coxeys' high-priced stallions were stalled. Stallions fetch a market price, and it is necessary that they should be rubbed down, bedded, watered and fed. Men have not been exchangeable for legal tender in this part since the "war," and it goes to no one's loss but their own if they drop off.

One contingent of Commonwealers was provided for in the long shed attached to the club-house of the racing track nearby. The landlord of the house had dumped a pile of straw into the shed, and upon this a half hundred privates made their bivouac.

They slung into the straw like sardines in a box, and declared that such luxury had not been known since they started from the historic precincts of Massillon. For the others, Camp George Washington, which has been titled Valley Forge.

Meanwhile, while the members of the main body of Commonwealers were dropping into uncomfortable slumbers in their tents, it was faring hard with the little contingent of irregulars under the leadership of Patent Medicine Fakir Smith. Hoarding a number of fifty men, Smith had pitched his camp in a clearing on the edge of the suburban woods of Takoma, a half mile distant. Their presence had become known to the commuters of Takoma, and it struck terror to the hearts of women and children.

JACOBS IN THE TOMBS.

Brought from San Francisco on Charges of Stealing Diamonds.

Simon M. Jacobs, a jewelry salesman, pleaded not guilty before Judge Cowing today to two charges of grand larceny and was remanded to the Tombs in default of $3,000 bail.

Jacobs was taken to court by Detective-Sergeant McLaughlin. He smoked a cigar on the way from Police Headquarters and seemed to regard his predicament as a joke. The specific charges against Jacobs are that he obtained $300 worth of diamonds from Henry R. Dolphin, of 24 John street, and $200 worth of diamonds from Luddie Powers, of 21 John street, in both instances false pretenses being alleged.

When Inspector McLaughlin was informed of the larceny, he detailed Detective McLaughlin on the case. McLaughlin learned that Jacobs was a frequenter of a conspicuous figure in the Tenderloin resorts, and after diligent work found that he had come to Chicago, then to San Francisco.

On Jacobs' arrest, McLaughlin's request, Jacobs was arrested and Detective McLaughlin went to San Francisco for him. On the way East Jacobs insisted on riding in a motor car. He had a big roll of champagne and cigars, to the great delight of the porter of the car. He arrived in this city yesterday and spent last night in Police Headquarters. He refuses to talk about his case.

GARBAGE CASE GOES OVER.

To Come Up Before Judge Lawrence Again on Wednesday.

The temporary injunction in the matter of the contract for removing garbage to Riker's Island came up before Justice Lawrence in the Supreme Court Chambers this forenoon and was put over until Wednesday next.

The injunction grew out of a bid made by Louis A. Newton to do the work for nine cents per cubic yard, which was three cents lower than the bid of John D. Dalley, who, it is alleged, had a private contract with Commissioner Adams.

Dalley got a temporary injunction, saying that he hadn't a fair chance, but subsequently notified the Corporation Counsel that he did not care to be involved in litigation, and would waive his claim to the contract and let the contract be readjusted.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Dean said the Newton bid meant a saving to the city of between $35,000 and $40,000 a year over what the city had hitherto been paying, and he intended to hold Newton to the contract.

CRUISING ROUND THE WORLD.

Spanish Training-Ship Nautilus Arrives in Port.

The Spanish training-ship Nautilus, commanded by Capt. Villamil, arrived at Quarantine last night. This morning she was towed up the harbor and dropped anchor in the upper bay of Liberty Island. She is bark rigged and has 200 men and officers on board.

The Nautilus was in this harbor three years ago, since which time she has made a complete circumnavigation of the globe. She was built at the Spanish Navy Yard at San Sebastian, and was launched in 1890.

At 11 o'clock this morning her guns belched forth a salute. Hardly had she finished the salute when a puff of smoke came from one of the port holes of the fort on Governor's Island, and three seconds later the Nautilus was answered by the Battery. Twenty-one guns, the National salute, were fired from the fort.

At 12 o'clock the Nautilus was towed to the pier at the foot of the Battery. The vessel will probably remain in this port about four weeks.

WOODHAVEN'S MYSTERY.

Little Prospect that To-Night's Inquest Will Unravel It.

JAMAICA, L. I., April 30.—Coroner Everett will hold an inquest this evening in the case of a deceased lady, Mary J. Smith, whose body was found in a reservoir at Woodhaven Saturday morning.

Constable Ashmead has been unable to entirely clear up the case, but all the circumstantial evidence points to a deliberately committed suicide.

Mrs. Nellie Caldwell, a daughter of the deceased who is the only person, so far as known, who witnessed her mother's death, is still unable to tell anything in an intelligent way. She is also demoralized.

ATTACKED BY A MANIAC.

School Children Chased by a Mad Italian at Cold Spring, L. I.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., April 30.—Joseph Blasi, an Italian, of Cold Spring, suddenly became insane last night, and until his capture this morning the residents of that place were in a state of terror. He was in an ugly mood last night, but was considered harmless until he began chasing school children this morning.

The cries of the latter were heard by Richard Van Arsdale, who knocked the man down with a stone, and was up in a moment, however, and fought fiercely. It required four men to handcuff him. Later he was sent to the Queens County Jail at Long Island City.

A Quiet Ceremony at the Historic Blaine Mansion.

Only Personal Friends of Family and Bridegroom as Guests.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Very quietly, and in the presence of their intimate personal friends, Truxton Beale, ex-Minister to Persia, and Harriet Blaine, daughter of the late Secretary Blaine, were married at the Blaine family residence on Lafayette Square, at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The Rev. Dr. Hamlin, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, performed the ceremony. Edward Woolston, of New York, was the best man and there were no bridesmaids. There was an entire absence of show or ceremony about the wedding.

Among the persons in official life who were present on the score of personal friendship, were Senators Cameron, Lodge, Jones, of Nevada; Hale, Frye, Chandler and Allison. Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador; Mr. Suss Low, the Portuguese Minister; the Maine representatives in Congress, and Representative Hitt, with Mrs. Hitt, completed the list of wedding guests.

Miss Blaine and Mr. Beale had been engaged for some years, but family sorrows from time to time had postponed the wedding.

The ceremony was performed in the drawing-room of the historic house, and the room was decorated with flowers. The bride wore a gown of white tulle, and the bridegroom wore a tuxedo.

The wedding cake was served by the bride's maid, and the bride and groom cut the cake together. The cake was decorated with flowers and ribbons.

The bride's bouquet was composed of white roses and lilies. The groom's boutonniere was composed of white roses and lilies.

The bride and groom were accompanied to the door by the bride's father, and the groom's father. They were then driven to the church by a carriage.

The bride and groom were married at 1 o'clock, and the ceremony was over by 1:30. The bride and groom were then driven to the house by a carriage.

Police Sergt. Walsh's Surprising Statement in the Stevin Trial.

He Says the Justices Will Not Accept Disorderly House Evidence.

Supt. Wisthart Subpoenaed to Tell About Mrs. Jones.

(By Associated Press.)

The trial of Police Capt. Stevin, of the Oak street station, on charges preferred by Police Commissioner MacLean, of having failed to suppress disorderly houses at 75 and 90 James street, was resumed before the Commissioners today.

The trial was begun Friday. The only witness for the complainant were William L. Sawyer and John Edward Thompson, private detectives in the employ of the Police Society for the Prevention of Crime.

Both gave damaging testimony against Capt. Stevin. They detailed minutely repeated visits to the places named, told of buying drinks and having been solicited by women.

Lawyer Howe, who appeared for Capt. Stevin, subjected the witnesses to a most vigorous and severe cross-examination, but failed to lessen the effect of their testimony.

The detectives denied that they were employed by the Parkhurst Society in these particular cases. They had been engaged by Supt. Wisthart, they said, to get evidence for a Mrs. Jones, who, they were informed, had a rooming house at 75 and 90 James street.

Mr. Howe, it is understood, will endeavor to learn today who the mysterious Mrs. Jones is who has manifested so much interest in the affairs of Capt. Stevin.

There is little doubt that a woman is really behind the prosecution of the case, which fact lends added interest to the trial.

A subpoena was issued this morning for Supt. Wisthart of the Parkhurst Society, to try to find who the mysterious Mrs. Jones is.

It was learned today that Zella Nicolaus was the cause of the trial being interrupted Saturday. She called at the court house and asked for a copy of the indictment against Capt. Stevin.

A total of 620 inmates were arrested 37 were fined in sums making a total of $2,460; 154 were sentenced to a month, 25 to three months, 10 to ten days and 5 to five days.

Mr. Stevin was fined a total of $400; 26 were fined a total of $2,000; 26 were sentenced to a month, 25 to three months, 10 to ten days and 5 to five days.
